With internationally recognised Fiber Optic Association, Inc. Students will receive a barcoded certificate from the FOA. FTTx (Fiber to the X) is an umbrella term for any broadband network architecture that uses optical fiber as the primary transmission medium to deliver high-speed internet to end users. The "X" defines the termination point: For African telecom operators, FTTH and FTTA are the most strategically. Quick ODN (Quick Optical Distribution Network) is a factory-pre-terminated FTTH system that replaces field splicing with mechanical plug-and-play connections across the entire passive optical network. In a standard GPON architecture, the ODN sits between the OLT (Optical Line Terminal) in the. Fiber Optic Distribution box is used as a termination point for feeder cable to connect with drop cable in FTTX communication network.
